

www.loveyourcoast.org

facebook.com/loveyourcoast

Love Your Coast

WHAT'S THE PROBLEM?

When we leave litter lying around, it travels out to sea through drains, streams, lagoons and estuaries.

Each year rubbish in our oceans harms and kills millions of sea creatures, who get caught in it or mistake it for food. Toxins from plastics poison our seafood and trash makes a perfect home for mosquitos to breed and spread disease.

Photo: 5gyres.org

WHAT CAN WE DO?

If we all use fewer products that create rubbish and dispose of what we use carefully, we can keep our beaches and oceans how they should be: litter free.

For the rubbish that is already on our beaches the answer is simple: we can pick it up! Beach clean-ups are a great, fun activity to organise for your community.

Go to www.loveyourcoast.org for more information, free planning materials and to promote your clean-up.

FIND OUT MORE & GET INVOLVED

www.loveyourcoast.org

facebook.com/loveyourcoast